THE PRIME MINISTER'S GREETING TO THE CANADIAN PEOPLE

"This year, up Christmas message should make its appeal, as never before, to every human heart. It is a message of peace and of good-will to men of good-will. That, surely, sets forth in a single phrase the one objective of the allied forces in the present struggle."

"It was not to disrupt and to destroy that Britain and France, and, within the past weeks, Finland took up arms to withstand aggression and to end oppression. It was to save further slaughter of innocent peoples and to make possible a world of peace."

On the outcome of this present conflict will depend, for our day and the days of many generations to come, whether the lives of nations as well as of individuals are to be governed by the methods of Herod or by the spirit of Christ."

"I matters not our voice or our creed, we, in Canada, can all rejoice that, in the pages of History, our country will be numbered among those that, with clear vision, saw the present menace to mankind, and responded to the call of Humanity in its hour of greatest need."

To my fellow citizens throughout the Dominion, who, in agreement a case, have so wholeheartedly supported my colleagues and myself in our endeavors to further the utmost the war effort of a united Canada, I desire to extend the best wishes for the Christmas season, and the New Year."

CANADA'S WAR LOAN 1940

Ottawa, December 28, 1939—Hon. J. L. Halton, Minister of Finance, announced that during the past few weeks preparatory organization work has been going on in connection with Canada's first War Loan. Mr. Halton stated that the Loan would probably make its appearance some time in the early part of 1940 but that as yet no decision had been reached as to the date of offering and obviously the terms and conditions of the Loan can only be considered and decided upon immediately before the loan is announced.

However, as the Loan Campaign will be the first wide spread voluntary effort in which the Canadian people as a whole will be asked to play a part on the economic war front, a great deal of work had been done in planning the organization of the Campaign. In this connection, the Minister stated that there would be a National War Loan Committee which will consist of representative citizens across Canada and will demonstrate the national character of the first War Loan offering.

On this Committee, of which the Minister of Finance will be Chairman, will be the five former Ministers of Finance now living, namely: Mr. Sir Thomas Duggan, Hon. Sir Henry Drayton, Hon. Chas. A. Dunning, Mr. Hon. R. B. Bennett, and Hon. E. N. Rhodes; and demonstrating the nationwide unanimity in the purpose of prosecuting the war the provincial treasurers of every province from Nova Scotia to British Columbia has consented to serve. The following are the nine Provincial Treasurers:

Hon. Angus I. Macdonald, Nova Scotia; Hon. C. T. Richard, New Brunswick; Hon. J. A. Mathews, Quebec; Hon. Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario; Hon. Stuart S. Garson, Manitoba; Hon. W. J. Patterson, Saskatchewan; Hon. Solon E. Low, Alberta; and Hon. John Hart, British Columbia.

The National War Loan Committee will be fully representative of the various sections of Canada. It will provide the assistance of a group of citizens who will individually and collectively take an interest in furthering the undertaking and who will be available to plan and assist any activity which may be considered necessary for the success of the Loan.

"While necessarily the formal membership of this Committee is limited, I am confident," said Mr. Halton, "that every citizen, regardless of his or her walk in life, will regard himself or herself as a member of the national organization for putting the loan over the top."

Mr. and Mrs. Nilsson are entertaining Thursday evening in a skating party for their three young daughters.

Ernie Wright is in Hospital in Drumheller undergoing treatment for internal trouble. Ernie hopes to be able to spend the New Year's Day at home.

Mayor Hughes is confined to bed with a heavy cold. The mayor is too busy a man to be able to stay ill long—and we hope for him a speedy return to health.

Drugs which took place at the School Concert held Wednesday December 28th resulted as follows. The cash and table cloth donated by the Sorosis Society were won by Mrs. Spence Hughes and Mrs. A. I. Downey respectively. The doll dressed by Mrs. Hyde and presented by Mrs. Craddock to St. Michael's Guild was won by Mrs. A. Morton.

Mr. Art Polley is a visitor at the Garret House.

Hector McGregor is having to under go a tonsil operation in Lethbridge Hospital. We hope that the sore throat will soon heal.

A Weekly Review of National Affairs

1940

Ottawa, Dec. 19th.—Parliament will open on January 29th in what will probably be its final session before a general election. Since the special session in which the Canadian parliament made its momentous decision to join forces with Britain and her allies, the government has been organizing the country's war effort from both the military and the economic side and it will of course, be the administration of this effort and all the measures connected with it which will occupy the time of parliament.

Mr. Mackenzie King, leader of the Conservative opposition has stated that he will bring up the question of patronage, which he claims has been followed by the government in the award of war contracts. Many phases of Canada's contribution to the conduct of war will be before the members of parliament.

In wartime matters of purely domestic concern naturally become subordinated to issues affecting the second side of the nation. At the same time these questions do come before the people's supreme tribunal, and it is practically certain that the report of the Dominion-Provincial Relations Commission will be tabled in parliament this session. Without doubt full consideration of the recommendations which will be contained in this report, which has been prepared with such painstaking devotion, can be given only when peace has been restored. One hears nowadays among parliament hill some discussion about the St. Lawrence Waterways, but whatever ultimate success may be achieved by these favoring this project, it is considered doubtful that it will be brought up in parliament this session. What will certainly occupy much of the time of parliament will be such questions as the construction and work of the Boars which help to direct the country's economic effort. Canada's present position as a major source of supply for the allies of wheat, bacon, and other essential commodities as well as war munitions, equipment, the military, naval and air activities of the Dominion, the Empire Air Training Scheme and many other war matters of the greatest importance to the country. The people of Canada will follow the program of the session with the liveliest interest.

New War Supply Orders.—Wartime makes uncertain when the next federal election will be held, but from present indications it looks like next year. That at least is the general feeling here. In the meantime, four by-elections will take place shortly. Col. Halton, Minister of Finance is the Liberal nominee for the by-election of January 8th in Prince Edward Island.

Under the new procedure of publishing amounts of contracts awarded by the War Supply Board and names of firms with whom contracts are made, announcements have been made of further war orders to the amount of $5,628,000. Since the war began, the Supply Board and its predecessor, The War Purchasing Board, have let contracts for war supplies to an approximate amount of $4 million dollars. In addition railway equipment orders have amounted to about $5 million dollars. Of the new orders, the major portion was for aircraft supplies and accessories, and these were bought from ten British Air Ministries. About thirty-five firms received substantial contracts for construction, clothing and equipment, aircraft supplies, machinery and barrack room stores.

Canada's Wheat Surplus.—Canada's largest wheat surplus is not being looked upon as so much of a burden as it appears; some time ago. The losses which have occurred through frost following earlier excessive rains in the Argentine wheat fields, and the excessive drought in Kansas and neighboring winter wheat states have had a distinctly strengthening effect on the wheat market, and have altered Canada's position in the world trade. It has further made it quite apparent that Canada will be a most important source of supply of this commodity in the present war. It is not believed that for the present at least there will be any need of changing the machinery of conducting the wheat business in Canada. There will likely be a steadily growing flow of wheat to the British market through the regular channels, in this way the money tied up in this surplus of grain will be released, with its beneficial effect on Canada's economy both East and West. It will further mean that Canada will be supplying from her granaries a most essential commodity for the sustaining of Britain and her allies in their struggle for existence and victory.

The War Time Prices and Trade Board.—The War Time Prices and Trade Board has recently announced that from eight to ten million pounds of carded wool are being received from New Zealand. This will help to relieve the wool situation in Canada. Short stocks in Canada at the opening Deutschland, and the Admiral Scheer, were built specifically to destroy convoys of ships carrying foodstuffs and other materials.

Not only have these three pocket battleships sunk a number of vessels, but what has been of greater concern they have prevented many Allied convoys of ships carrying wheat and other products from leaving port. It has now been found, however—something hardly anyone suspected—that three small British cruisers can effectively deal with a pocket battleship. The menace, therefore, of the surviving Deutschland and Admiral Scheer, is almost ended; the safety of convoys consequently is much better assured, hence more convoys—escorted by small cruisers—will sail, and so more wheat will leave Canada.

The fact that the menace of the pocket battleships—an arm upon which Germany so depended—has now become greatly lessened, will no doubt tend to hasten the climax of war, and so will tend to bring ultimate peace a little nearer.

The King's Quotation—

The mysterious quotation, in which the King said he felt "we all may find a message of encouragement," follows I said to a man

"Give me a light that I may tread safely into the unknown"

And he replied, "Go out into the darkness and put your hand into the hand of God."

That should be to you better than light and safer than the known way."

The rest of the poem, called "God knows," reads—

"So I went forth and finding the hand of God took gladly into the night, and He led me towards the hills and the breaking of the day in the lone east."

"So heart be still, "What need our little life, "Our human life to know, "If God hath comprehensions?"

Inspiration for the lines came to Miss Haskins when she was in the west of England shortly before 1914, the Daily Telegraph said.

"My recollections of the circumstances in which the lines were written are vague," that newspaper quoted her as saying.

Miss Haskins published her first novel, "Through Beds of Stone," 11 years ago. This was followed by "A New People."

Aesthetic And Anesthetic— I spoke to you, my friend, this very day,

About the deep complexity of things, About the tiny atom and the way The small electron moves on nimble wings.

I spoke about philosophy profound, I talked psychology and why men laugh; I stated laws of light and heat and sound,

And then, I waxed abstruse with not mere chaff.

You listened in a very passive mood, You seemed to take in every single word;

You ravished all my transcendental food, You did not speak —, You simply sat and heard.

At last, you seemed about to beg for more —, You moved your lips—alas, 'twas just to sneer!

EDMONTON LETTER

EDMONTON, ALBERTA — Dec. 26.

After more than fifteen months sitting, the royal commission studying Alberta's oil industry is coming to the probe this week, hearing the last of summaries by its own counsel and then adjourning to await the report of the commissioners, with Mr. Justice A. McMillan.

Having been appointed last year to study the industry, particularly in Turner Valley, the commission faced a tremendous job. The government wanted a study of the possibility of taking over the oilfield and operating it as a provincially-owned venture, and of the profits or losses made by companies which have been developing the field, changing it from an ordinary acreage to a treasure house from which every citizen of the province and the provincial government itself reap profits.

The commission went straight to the heart of the subject during the investigation. Chairman McMillan himself taking the lead numerous times in directing the course of the inquiry and in calling for evidence of the type he knew to be important. As a result, the whole probe has been one of the most exhaustive ever conducted on any subject, although this subject of Alberta's oil industry is one of the most complex which could be taken under investigation. The probe has delved into dozens of separate phases of the industry, including technical problems involving production, refining and distributing; the whole picture of world economics as related to the oil industry; much expert evidence on the prospects of the Turner Valley field; and a study of consumers' benefits.

Discovery over the week end that the Alberta government has taken another $25,000 out of the provincial treasury, in addition to large sums taken previously for the purpose of printing more of the Social Credit party propaganda pamphlets, aroused non-partisan taxpayers this week in Edmonton.

Political activity is expected to break loose in full force early in the New Year, with the conviction in most quarters that Premier Aberhart is planning with his Social Credit supporters to call an election before the roads thaw out in the early spring.

Rumor around the legislative building is in fact that the government will go to the country before the end of March or early in April. At latest, Premier Aberhart is reported to have reached the decision that he cannot afford to wait until Ottawa shows its hand and announces a date for the federal election.

Aberhart wants to go to the polls ahead of the Ottawa government and he fears he might be left with too little time if he postpones until the federal vote is called before announcing his own election date.

In any case the provincial legislature will meet for its last session early in February. There will not be a large slate of legislation to clean off by the members but there will be a torrent of the usual promises and resolutions designed to lead, or mislead the electors into voting one way or the other.

1940 USHERS IN A NEW DECADE

We have passed through a dark decade. Slender forces have been at work everywhere. The average man was perhaps first conscious of the effects of his moral disquiet when the financial crash of 1929 came. A decade which began with a worldwide depression ended in a Second World War.

M. R. A. — Moral Re-Armament, is the battle cry of a growing body of men and women in over sixty countries, and the Christmas season brings home the simple reminder of how men and nations are to be re-armed morally — RE-BIRTH FROM ABOVE.

The Hon. Wm. R. Banham, Speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives, said recently, "We stand today at a decisive moment in history. Is there a force which can win the race with chaos? There is a force which can outmatch all others and which, if we will, can shape the future. It is the mighty onslaught of a new spirit, challenging men and nations to a change of heart. It is the cumulative effect of millions of people who listen to God and obey."

The recent world-wide drive for a hundred million listening to God, sponsored by such men as the Earl of Athlone, uncle to our King, was the prelude to 1940 — the M. R. A. year, when listening to God will be the accepted thing.

Mrs. Edison Hughes, widow of the late Thomas A. Edison, said recently, "At first when Dr. Edison had the vision of flooding a nation with light, many people thought it a fantastic idea and yet in the span of one generation the whole world has been flooded with light. To people unaccustomed to the presence of God in their lives, the experiment of listening to Him may seem equally fantastic. But seedlings can only dream what is happening. The planter decides what will happen."

The Moral Re-Armament Movement started when one man wrote six simple letters of apology. It has spread as a result of new honesty, purity, unselfishness and love coming into the lives of millions. It means accepting Christ's standards rather than man's standards. 1940, the M. R. A. year, can usher in a new decade — the greatest spiritual decade of all time.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christ, centis" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, The Golden Text is John 8:12. One of the Scriptural citations is "Jesus said unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father (the divine Principle of being) but by me." Christ, Life, Truth, Love, for Christ says, "I am the way."

1940 USHERS IN A NEW DECADE

We have passed through a dark decade. Slender forces have been at work everywhere. The average man was perhaps first conscious of the effects of his moral disquiet when the financial crash of 1929 came. A decade which began with a worldwide depression ended in a Second World War.

M. R. A. — Moral Re-Armament, is the battle cry of a growing body of men and women in over sixty countries, and the Christmas season brings home the simple reminder of how men and nations are to be re-armed morally — RE-BIRTH FROM ABOVE.

The Hon. Wm. R. Banham, Speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives, said recently, "We stand today at a decisive moment in history. Is there a force which can win the race with chaos? There is a force which can outmatch all others and which, if we will, can shape the future. It is the mighty onslaught of a new spirit, challenging men and nations to a change of heart. It is the cumulative effect of millions of people who listen to God and obey."

The recent world-wide drive for a hundred million listening to God, sponsored by such men as the Earl of Athlone, uncle to our King, was the prelude to 1940 — the M. R. A. year, when listening to God will be the accepted thing.

Mrs. Edison Hughes, widow of the late Thomas A. Edison, said recently, "At first when Dr. Edison had the vision of flooding a nation with light, many people thought it a fantastic idea and yet in the span of one generation the whole world has been flooded with light. To people unaccustomed to the presence of God in their lives, the experiment of listening to Him may seem equally fantastic. But seedlings can only dream what is happening. The planter decides what will happen."

The Moral Re-Armament Movement started when one man wrote six simple letters of apology. It has spread as a result of new honesty, purity, unselfishness and love coming into the lives of millions. It means accepting Christ's standards rather than man's standards. 1940, the M. R. A. year, can usher in a new decade — the greatest spiritual decade of all time.

NEW YEAR GREETINGS

Laugh as the old year passes out
And the new year enters in,
Cause you never can tell what the future holds
For the man who can always grin.

The post has gone, so now carry on
With a heart that is full of cheer,
For you ought to know this long ago,
The good times will come next year.

Laugh as the old year passes out
With its cares and blasted hopes
There is still a chance in this western land
For the man who "knows the ropes"

And ten rainbows end may be round the bend
With its faded "pot of gold,"
So set your chin in a welcome grin,
For the year that will soon unfold.
—The Bulletin.

A LOOK IN THE CRYSTAL C. W. N. A. Bulletin

As the end of another year approaches, let us indulge in a little crystal-gazing. You won't be able to throw stones, in future because your year will be made of glass. The problem of growing family will be solved because inside your home partitions will be moved at will to adjust size or number of rooms. Life may become perpetually at fresco as you sit in a glass-enclosed garden flooded with ultraviolet rays, and slip tea in mid-winter. In the house of the future, also, there may be an entertainment room where current events of the world will be vividly on tap, and the walls will be lined with talking books — sound recordings to entertain us orally with the world's great compositions.

Travel will be different. Planes may fly 50,000 feet at a speed of 3,000 miles an hour. Automobiles may weigh less than one thousand pounds, travel at 100 and 150 miles an hour and cover 50 miles on a gallon of gas. These developments are based on inventions already in sight or scientifically conceivable. They are a slight indication of the sweeping changes that will come to life and work during the next ten, twenty or fifty years. Isn't it a stirring challenge to all of us to keep pace with these changes — to order our lives and plans so that every advance finds us eager and able to utilize for the greater good of business and humanity the fruits of the brilliant research and dauntless pioneering of this twentieth century.

COL. ARMAND A. SMITH

AND NEWS John N. Hunt
PUBLICITY DEPARTMENT CFAC

"Family Man" Charms
Vast Air Audience

A new type of entertainer made his bow to the huge C.F.A.C. radio audience last Tuesday, introduced as "The Family Man," his warm, counting manner quickly won for him a permanent niche in the hall of friendly radio personalities and a warm spot in the hearts of all who tune-in his informal program.

"The Family Man" is a doctor and a good one, but first of all he is an average man. A father devoted to the welfare of his three delinquent children, sharing their problems and lending his wealth of experience to the development of their characters. John, the oldest, is studying medicine; Paul is still at high school and little Mary is only eight.

What makes "The Family Man" so forthright and entertaining is the quiet simplicity of the "Family Man" himself. As he practices his profession, he makes time for his motherless family. Tries to encourage them to discuss their problems with him and with one another. "The Family Man" understands the importance of surrounding a growing family with the atmosphere of warmth and understanding that is the privilege of family life. That he is able to do this, although long a widower, is a glowing tribute.

"The Family Man" is heard Tuesday night at 6:30 p.m. over CFAC. It will be heard every Tuesday night at the same time over the same station. Those who missed it last night are urged to make a note now of next Tuesday's broadcast of "The Family Man."

Club Matinee

An original comedy, skit, branch-leaf of Hanson Sherman, genial Club Matinee master of ceremonies, will highlight the variety broadcast Thursday, Dec. 28th, at 4 p.m. EST, over the CBC Network. In addition to supplying the humor Sherman will introduce the soloists and the orchestra.

Contented Hour Salutes Italy

The famous "Dance of the Hours" from "La Gioconda" and the Sextette from "Lucia di Lammermoor," will highlight the Canadian Contented Program, January 1st at 8 p.m. MST, over CFAC, Calgary, which will be presented as a musical salute to Italy. The first was chosen for the program by Josef A. Pasternack, musical director, as typical of the season.

Once Upon A Time

Fairy Tales which will live forever — and which are especially appreciated by younger children — such is the program which we offer over CFAC starting January 1st, running Monday through Saturday at 5:15 p.m.

Such characters as the "Old Woman in the Shoe," "The Snow Queen," "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp," "Puss in Boots," Jack, "The Giant Killer," and many many other characters, with their characteristic, clever lyrics and captivating, original music, to entertain you every evening.

Be sure to tell the kiddies about this and have them listen. It is one of those "must listen" programs and brings to the kiddies over the air what Walt Disney brought to them on the silver screen — a truly wonderful Christmas story.

WAR TIME REFLECTIONS

(TIM LONGSOOTHAM)

Military training makes great changes in some of the young fellows.
Quite recently we lost a lad whom we sorely recognized after three months of service with a well known Canadian unit.

His drill instructor had ironed all the kinks out of his young body, and his alert and graceful manner caused many admiring eyes to follow him.

As we watched the sturdy Canuck having a joyful time in the midst of a bunch of pretty girls we got to thinking along the following lines.

If the old guys went to do the fighting instead of the young ones the casualties would be pretty thick.

After about a week of warfare the fathers and grandpas would probably leave their opponents to come over for a "sing song" or a friendly game of rummery, such conduct would of course make all the ambitious draftees forsake their dreams of conquest, and perhaps lead to more fruitful matters than the lobbing of bombs, etc.

• • •
The value of fate to warring nations may be seen in the undernoted figures. One hundred pounds of land can-stays 10 lbs. of glycerine and this is capable of making 10 lbs. of dynamite.

In turn this preparation comprises one third of the total propellant power of modern artillery.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT
By H. G. L. Strange Director—"The Crop Testing Plan"

The drought consumes us. There on high
The hills are parched, the streams are dry.
The drought consumes us. Still I stirve.

And will not leave while I survive." (Chinese poem from the Shi King collection of Confucius)

That drought in the large wheat areas of the world is a common experience is revealed by this ancient Chinese poem, the author of which is unknown, but which was written certainly more than 2,000 years ago.

The farmers in the southern areas of our Prairie Provinces have suffered severely from a long series of bad drought years. Most of our farmers did not leave their land, but on the contrary they stayed as long as they could survive, just as did that ancient Chinese farmer poet.

And this last year, their patience was rewarded, for normal rainfalls once again came, bringing with them bountiful harvests of wheat, forage crops and of high quality grain.

This experience has demonstrated to the whole world, in a most dramatic fashion, the remarkable recuperative power of the soil and of the wheat plant, and most particularly the recu-perative power of the con-scious farmer himself.

• • •
After several years of heart-breaking drought, this year at good once again came over the greater part of our prairies, and so many farmers are now enjoying increased income from the grain crop.

The history of the West tells us however, that sooner or later one of more drought years are in will come.
One of the first Ministers of Agriculture in China—the Marshal Tsou-over 2,000 years ago, advised the Chinese farmers located in the semi-arid or drought areas of China to put by some money, some seed and feed in the good years, to help them tide over the dry years, which he warned would certainly come again sooner or later.

After the severe difficulties imposed upon our farmers by the recent drought years, this good agricultural advice cannot, of course, be taken by all, but those farmers who can manage this year to put by a little money and seed and feed, won't certainly have a valuable financial "safety network" or "lifebuoy" that would help them to keep afloat when the bad years once again come around.
